

PR/Communications Internship in Los Angeles, CA

Company is a fully integrated international marketing and communication agency. They offer public relations, strategic influencer and lifestyle marketing, brand strategy, event creation and production as well as creative content development.

Company was formed to offer contemporary and state-of-the-art solutions for needs in Public Relation and Brand Marketing. Driven by communications specialists with extensive experience, nationally and internationally, from both sides of the agency and corporate driven marketing spectrum, the company offers a truly global mindset, strengthened by its established relationships around the globe.

Company is looking for an intern to gain experience on all fronts, from managing social media channels to strategizing on new pitches and assisting on current projects. They are looking for a team player who wants to learn and is willing to work hard.

Client Profile:

- Background and affinity with Marketing, PR and/or Communication
- Has knowledge and experience in different communications disciplines: PR (Classic Print, New digital Media), Social Media, project management, client communication
 - Digital and new technology savvy
 - Team player, flexible and pro-active
 - Strong writing skills
- Interest in urban lifestyle, culture, arts and fashion on a global scale
 - Creative and out of the box mentality
 - Natural sense for aesthetics and style
- Skills in graphic design/ illustration (Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign) a huge plus!

Location: LA, CA

Duration: 4-6 months

Start: Flexible

